BLACK AND LATINO CAUCUS TO MEET WITH GOVERNOR BAKER REGARDING WEALTH GAP

BOSTON — The Massachusetts Black and Latino Legislative Caucus (MBLLC) will meet with Governor Charlie Baker today as part of a series of longstanding quarterly meetings. The discussion and agenda will focus on economic development, employment, job training, micro business development, and homeownership in low income communities.

“If we are going to improve health and educational outcomes, reduce youth gun violence and incarceration rates, then we must also address the wealth gap,” stated Caucus Chairman Representative Carlos González (D – Springfield). He continued, “We must be at the table addressing economic development and prosperity by changing policies and practices that keep us as consumers of services, rather than the producers.”

The MBLLC and the Governor have a very positive working relationship, and the Caucus looks forward to a robust discussion addressing the wealth gap.

The Massachusetts Black and Latino Legislative Caucus is a group of state legislators seeking to define, highlight and analyze those issues and concerns affecting people of color in the Commonwealth. For more information, please visit: www.mablacklatinocaucus.com
